

Patient Stories...

Protecting a dream

The success story of a 16 year boy against the web of blood disorder leaves us with a ray of hope towards the cause. The initial search reflected his match in Germany but with a cost equivalent to the only supporting land of their family. Devastated with their luck, the family put their efforts in the direction of mortgaging their land and collecting the required resources. Meanwhile, the Gene Bandhu's updated database reflected a match, reducing the cost by 5 folds. The boy's dream of becoming a wrestler was thus saved and so is the family's source of earning.

A Donor Quest

The family of an 18 year boy, in their efforts to fight against leukemia, has reached Gene Bandhu with a hope towards finding donor. The desire to fight for survival, has driven the family towards understanding the whole donor registration process and extend their attempts by organizing donor drives at various locations. A grand dinner in Canada was organized to accumulate funds for HLA typing. Despite their sincere efforts, fortune didn't favor them. The family is still in search for a matched donors and needs the support in their quest to save a life.

Gene Bandhu experience

The hope of the patients approaching Gene Bandhu reminds us of our duty and challenge to eliminate the fear of these devastating disorders and save them at any cost. Each donor match brings the tears of joy for each of us and strengthens our hope by motivating us to work harder.

Verbatim

Gene Bandhu's team works with energy, enthusiasm and positivity. They assisted us regarding my nephew's (Jasnoor) bone marrow match last year. Dr Raina and his team provided us with an excellent support, guidance and information in the hour of need. I would love to see Gene Bandhu extending its support to the families in need at a much larger scale. Our heartfelt wishes and regards will always be with the team for their diligent work.
